Glenn Horne named as new Wolfville CAO

Wolfville, NS – On behalf of Council, Mayor Wendy Donovan has announced Glenn Horne as the new Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) of Wolfville. With 15 years of experience as a public servant, most recently as the CAO for Antigonish County, Horne will provide support for Town staff and Council.

“This appointment is the culmination of four months of focused work by Town Council,” Mayor Donovan said. “Glenn comes to us from the Municipality of the County of Antigonish, also a community with strong ties to a university, bringing valuable experience in Town and Gown collaboration.”

As CAO for Antigonish County, Horne built a reputation for providing community-centred municipal services while supporting development and infrastructure growth. He was involved with the establishment of Strait-IT, the Antigonish Active Transportation Corridor, the Net-Zero Community Building project, and the Friendship Accord, signed with the Paqtnkek Mi’kmaw Nation.

“I look forward to joining the team in Wolfville and contributing to the leadership of this dynamic and growing Town,” Horne said.

Council and staff will welcome Horne in mid-July when he takes on his new role as CAO, working from Town Hall. Mayor Donovan encourages everyone to take the time to welcome Horne and his family to Wolfville.
